A. G. Favre, Clerk of Courts Will Be Candidate For Sheriff and Tax Collector

To the Voters of Hancock County:

After due consideration, following discussions with many of my friends throughout the County, and with the promise to them, that when I reached a decision as to what course I would follow in the coming Democratic Primary Election to be held in 1947 for the election of State and County Offices I would make the same public. I wish to announce that I shall not be a candidate for the office of Clerk of Courts; but will be a candidate for the Office of Sheriff and Tax Collector, in which office, if elected, I feel that I can render much service to the people of Hancock County.

I am making this announcement at this time so that my friends may know what decision I have reached and to allow the men who may aspire to the office of Clerk of Courts, and who have been awaiting my decision as to whether or not I would be a candidate for this office, to announce their candidacy if they see fit.

It shall be my purpose at a later date to make a formal announcement of my candidacy for the office of Sheriff and Tax Collector.

Respectfully,
A. G. FAVRE.

The St. Stanislaus Sideline Club, headed by Roger M. Boh, President, were host at a dinner on Tuesday night, August 13th, honoring Brother Peter, President of St. Stanislaus, upon his return to Bay St. Louis.

Over 100 guests were present for the occasion. Men of prominence from out of town included, Leonard Nicholson, President of the Times-Picayune Publishing Company, Dr. C. A. McCarthy of Baton Rouge, La., Sam Cornsweat, President of the New Orleans Mid Winter Sports Association, and to the Vice President of the New Orleans Mid Winter Sports Association, Henry Frnka, Head Coach of Tulane University, his assistant Coach, Vinzant of Tulane, and Congressman W. M. Colmer, who was the principal speaker of the evening.

Mr. Colmer expressed his appreciation upon being asked to be present to welcome back to Bay St. Louis, one who was loved and admired by all who knew him; he stated, that the gathering was indicative that there was something out of the ordinary in Brother Peter; that his accomplishments were out of the ordinary; that he was an inspiration to many young men as they advanced along the pathway of life. Mr. Colmer then proceeded to make a few remarks about the visit of the committee of which he is chairman to 13 European countries, and to the Vatican. He stated that although he was of a different faith, how impressed he was by the holiness, godliness and true humility of the Pope displayed on their visit to the Vatican. Mr. Colmer further stated that one of the greatest bulwarks in the fight against Communism in the world today is the Church, and that Communism is a real danger whether we recognize it or not. In his closing remarks he stated, that as a citizen of the Gulf Coast he was glad to be here and to welcome Brother Peter back, and that he hoped that his order would change their rule as to his term as President of St. Stanislaus, and that he would be perpetuated in this office.

Brother Peter in a few well chosen words expressed his happiness at being back home, and of the confidence expressed in him by his fellow citizens of Bay St. Louis. In extending his remarks on the statement of Mr. Colmer, of the period of doubt and unrest that is existing in the world today, he said, that he was convinced that the only cure and the greatest bulwark against communism is religion.

Brother Peter is one of the foremost students of Juvenile Delinquency in the South, and he brought out very clearly that the only cure for that problem, and for the salvation of our youth is religion and the family. He stated that there would be no cure, where there was no religion in the home and no family life.

In conclusion Brother Peter finally broke down and told his audience that he had been teaching for forty years, most of which had been spent in Bay St. Louis and St. Stanislaus and that Bay St. Louis was one of the grandest towns in the country, and of the splendid operation that he had received at all times from the people of Bay St. Louis, and that he was asking for their continued cooperation.

A few words of good wishes and welcome were expressed by Coach Frnka, Mr. Sam Cornsweat and Coach Pete Burge of Stanislaus.

Variety Program Given Last Thursday at St. Joseph Academy Nets Nice Sum

It is seldom that a Bay St. Louis audience enjoys as much local talent, grouped together on one program as was presented on Thursday, August 8 at St. Joseph Hall at 8 p. m. The program was presented with a view to adding a nice amount to the swimming pool fund. To date $116 has been banked and all expenses taken care of.

The program opened with two numbers—Waltz by Brahms and Amariyllis by the Ensemble Charming, composed of three violinists Mrs. Francis Wilson, Mrs. J. Roland Weston and Rene de Montluzin, Jr. and one pianist Mrs. J. Briscoe Goldman. Bay St. Louis two young promising artists as pianists each gave two piano solos: Miss Irma Kenney played Greig's Nocturne and Keelling's "In Hungary" and John Dupaquier played Beethoven's Elise and Keller's Concert Waltz.

Those in charge of the concert take this time to extend thanks to those who took time out for hours of practice in order to help the program, those who assisted in making and serving the punch, those who served at the intermission, to those who helped get extra chairs for the hall, to Mother Blanche for the use of the hall; to Mr. Bourgeois for acting as doorkeeper; to Mr. Sumrall for the donation of ice; to Margalo Damborino for distributing the programs and Mr. Wilson for tending the curtains; to kind friends for sending the gallon of fruit juices and to others who also donated punch material and especially to those who have expressed themselves as having enjoyed the program and saying that it was a good program. More About Paper
Some of our readers are probably anxious to know how we came out in our last paper drive. So here it is—amount of paper picked up was four thousand, five hundred pounds (4,500) pounds which paid us six dollars and seventy-five cents ($6.75) and one hundred fifty pounds rags, which was three dollars ($3.00), making a total of nine dollars, seventy-five cents ($9.75). While this is not a staggering amount of money, still it is something made from nothing, and it saved all those the trouble of burning it. We understand that even though the collectors made a pretty thorough canvass of the streets, there were still a few persons who were passed up. To these we apologize, and hope this will not keep them from saving for the next time.

The next day of collection will be the last Saturday in this month, August 31st. Now the man says that as this is the only day he can give us to collect, please have your paper and rags ready, and by the way notice how much more rags pay than paper. To be sure yours will be picked up call phone 588-W and notify that party that you, will have your bundle of paper or rags or both, ready for Saturday, August 31st for the Altar Society collection. Phone 588-W.

HIGHER PRICES AHEAD

THE American buyer can expect higher prices but economic experts suggest that the impact on the family budget will not be measured until next fall.

While the OPA, upon its renewal, issued a number of orders providing price increases, decontrols and miscellaneous adjustments, few of them reflect any of the advances in raw materials and most of them were in process when the agency was temporarily abolished by Congress.

It remains to be seen whether the new legislation accomplishes much in holding down price increases. Frankly we have considerable doubt and the probability is that, sometime in the next year or so, the main question in American homes will be the high cost of living.

Of course, average intelligence suggests that the nation will go through a repetition of wage demands and that each time there is an increase in wages, producers will demand a price increase. It may be baffling to the consumer, or purchaser, but it has not yet begun to tax the pocketbook nerve.

DEFENSE NOT BASED ON ECONOMY

THE process of demobilization is being followed by a campaign for expenditures in connection with the programs of the Army and Navy.

Naturally, the United States Government should not spend more than is reasonably necessary for its protection, in connection with the armed services, but one should not overlook the danger of basing the service programs upon a policy of economy, rather than a policy of defense.

Certainly, if the United States wishes to have a hand in maintaining the peace of the world, it will be necessary for this country to spend an adequate sum for the Army, Navy and Air Corps. This program should not fluctuate in accordance with the economic condition of the nation, nor should it be substantially reduced in order to assure tax reductions for the people of this country.

We are among those who believe that long-range economy is served by a continuing program of defense. In two wars, the nation has been compelled to mobilize at exorbitant cost because of imperative necessity. This process has cost the taxpayers billions of dollars. It might be avoided, if a future emergency arises, by a policy of reasonable, but complete, preparedness.

U. S. SHOULD PROTECT ITS MEN

THE fact that official Chinese Communist agencies admit that their troops recently fought a battle with U. S. Marines will cause some Americans, no doubt, to ask why the Marines are in China?

This is not the point at issue, however according to the Marine Corps, a motor convoy, one of the regular patrols which run over the highway every third day, was ambushed in a deep cut between cornfields and the Chinese opened fire with machine guns, rifles and grenades without warning.

Whether the Marines were where they ought to be or not, they were carrying out duties assigned by the U. S. High Command. Consequently, they are entitled to the full protective force that can be applied to their defense. There should be no hesitation whatever, in letting the world know that it does not pay to attack American soldiers, sailors, or Marines.

Of course, this does not mean that the United States should open war with the Communists in China, but it does mean that the United States should see that its forces, wherever they are, are in sufficient strength to protect themselves.

What has become of the old-fashioned man who went into a business deal expecting the other trader to tell him the full truth?

To enjoy life, look around you and see how much you have to be thankful for; then sit back, be satisfied and enjoy yourself.

Accidents on our highways are increasing which means that traffic regulations must be more strictly enforced than ever before if we are to reduce the number of fatalities.

Subscribers to The Sea Coast Echo are reminded that we try to render public service and that this newspaper is anxious to do everything possible to assist in the proper development of Hancock County.

PROVIDING . . . Rural Telephones Is A BIG JOB

It's a big one . . . the job of providing telephone service to rural people scattered over hundreds of thousands of square miles in nine states!

But it's a job that we're pleased to be doing. Southern Bell trucks and men are becoming a more and more familiar sight along the rural roads of the Southeast.

Of course a job of this size can't be completed overnight—particularly since more central office equipment must be installed at many telephone exchanges before additional 'phones can be connected.

You can be sure of this: We're doing the job, using the best equipment and technique Bell System experience and research can develop, and we'll keep on extending telephone service into more and more rural areas.

ical Education Board, expressed willingness and wholehearted desire to assist Mississippi in the program designed by the 1946 Legislature to meet the existing shortage of doctors in the Magnolia State.

In addition to active assistance, as manifested by speedy and detailed replies to all inquiries concerning Mississippi applicants, Deans and Registrars of Tulane and LSU have supplied with information of value to Mississippi's new Medical Education Board.

Commenting on the program, Dr. Edgar Hull, Assistant Dean, LSU School of Medicine, said, "Mississippi's program for training general practitioners to serve in the small communities and rural areas of the State is not only unique but is in keeping with the newest trend in the field of medicine: the return of the general practitioner as a vital part of any program of medical care. The GP is needed everywhere—in the cities, in the small towns, in the country. Specialists supplement his work, research men evaluate and intensify his findings, laboratory technicians are his ally—but the general practitioner is coming back to stay."

"Mississippi, as a predominantly agricultural State, knows that her need for family physicians is great. The Mississippi Legislature, in creating this medical education scholarship loan program, has not only made it possible for many worthwhile medical students to become valued and useful members of the medical profession but has opened the way for adequate medical care for Mississippians."

"LOVER COME BACK" ORTIE THEATER SUNDAY - MONDAY

Lucille Ball, George Brent
With Vera Zorina and Charles Winninger

Combining the talents of three top stars, sparkling with refreshing dialogue and boasting a modern, believable story, "Lover Come Back," for which Universal Pictures is currently taking bows, will open at the Ortie Theater Sunday and Monday. George Brent, Lucille Ball and Vera Zorina are starred in the comedy which is hailed as the outstanding motion picture yet to come from the writing-producing team of Michael Fessier and Ernest Pagano.

The story concerns the return of a war correspondent from Europe with the camerawoman who had covered his stories pictorially. Brent plays the writer, while Zorina is the feminine lens wizard.

The correspondent's wife, who has fought off a batch of highly eligible "Wolves" during her husband's absence, soon discovers that her mate hadn't devoted all his time to the typewriter while traveling about the Continent. Incidents involving him with several gorgeous girls at first lead to jealousy, then an earnest desire to teach her husband a lesson. Miss Ball is seen as the embattled wife.

Fessier and Pagano, able to "shoot the works" on this, their most pretentious production, signed William Seiter, 31 year veteran in movie-making, as director. The cast includes Charles Winninger, Carl Esmond, Raymond Walburn, Elisabeth Risdon, Louise Beavers, Wallace Ford and Franklin Pangborn. Howard Benedict was the executive producer.

Feminine fans will no doubt be interested in the styles of the future created by ace Hollywood designer Travis Banton; for Miss Ball and Zorina. Faced with the necessity of living up to the script's description of Lucille Ball as "The best dressed woman in America," Banton is said to have spent weeks turning out an elaborate wardrobe for the star.
